

Press Release

BETEP Joins Circet France

Paris, July 4, 2025 – Circet, Europe’s leading provider of network infrastructure services, today announced the acquisition of BETEP (Bureau d’Etudes Techniques Parisien).

Founded in 2014 by Frédéric Verroust, BETEP is an engineering consultancy specializing in power distribution networks. Its core activities include studies, consulting, project management, and owner’s representative services (AMO) for projects such as electric vehicle charging infrastructure, the installation and upgrade of electricity meters, and the renewal of electrical risers.

João Martinho, Managing Director of Circet France, stated: “The acquisition of BETEP brings Circet France valuable engineering expertise in the fast-growing power distribution market. This move marks another strategic step in diversifying our activities. We are delighted to welcome Frédéric Verroust and the entire BETEP team to Circet as we continue to improve service quality and customer satisfaction.”

Frédéric Verroust, founder of BETEP, added: “This acquisition is an important milestone for BETEP, and we are excited to join a leading and dynamic global company like Circet. Our team will contribute its know-how and expertise while benefiting from the Group’s support and national presence to grow our activities together.”
